

BEAT HIS WIFE ON JUSTICE'S WORD

Connorton, of Long Island City, Had Announced that Any Husband Had the Right If She Remained Out After 10 P. M.

GOOD LAW, GERKIN THOUGHT

She and Friend Had Been to North Beach, Drink Soda Water and Stayed Out Until 11:20—Magistrate Issues Summons.

Magistrate Connorton was called upon to pass upon one of his own none-genuine-unless-blown-in-the-Connorton-law-book decisions to-day when Mrs. Barbara Gerkin, of Woodside, went into court and asked that her husband be arrested for following the Magistrate's advice.

A year ago the Magistrate, after hearing a tale of domestic unhappiness, decided that a married woman should be home at 10 P. M., and if she remained out without good cause after that time it was the right of the husband to chastise her. Mrs. Gerkin, who is thirty-five years old, the mother of two children and a comely, told the Magistrate that her husband had followed his advice.

"It was this way," said Mrs. Gerkin: "Myself and a lady friend also married and the mother of a couple of children—she's a neighbor of mine at Woodside—went to North Beach yesterday. We went on the merry-go-round and enjoyed ourselves. There we met two young men, mere boys, and they asked us to have a drink; asked us, a couple of married women, so we had some cream soda. We remained at the beach until 10 o'clock and then we went home."

"When we go off the car and were going up to where we lived, out came my husband with another man, the husband of the other lady. It's twenty minutes past eleven," says he, and with that he adds: 'I'll just give you a little Connorton decision, and he let me beat him with a stick. 'Connorton for you, too,' said my friend's husband, and he began to beat her. After beating me my husband took me home, and when he went into the house and locked up his clothes and went away. This morning I went over to see my friend, and her husband had just left. He told her he was going to the beach and she could get along the best she could. Both men said they were acting on your decision."

CHIEF GERONIMO JOINS THE CHURCH

Apache Leader, Whom Gen. Miles Described as "the Worst Indian Who Ever Lived," Becomes Methodist.

FORT SILL, I. T., July 21.—Geronimo, the Apache chief, whom Gen. Miles pronounced "the worst Indian who ever lived," and who for the past eight years has been a prisoner of war on this military reservation, has joined the Methodist Church with a dozen of his braves, being received into full membership.

For over a quarter of a century the old-time Apache chief, a ceaseless wanderer on the whites, and with that cowboy chief, old Geronimo, to plan his campaigns, was the terror of the Southwest. And again the Apaches out-generated and outmarched the United States troops which were sent against them.

On one occasion, when hard pressed by the troops, the old Indian and his band made 60 miles on horseback without a rest to effect his escape. On another time Geronimo quit his braves and for miles on foot to elude his pursuers.

After his surrender, Geronimo and the 20 members of his band were sent to the Everglades of Florida, where they were kept for three years. The climate threatened to wipe out the band by consumption, and they were removed to the military reservation of Fort Sill and placed in charge of Lieut. Ballou of the 21st Infantry in 1894.

That officer put the bucks to work and on the north side of Medicine Creek built homes for the occupation of the Apaches. About this time Geronimo used to wander over to the post and indulge his passion of buying money with the soldiers and the Anadarko Indians who had come to Quintette's store to trade.

TRIED SUICIDE WHILE WIFE SLEPT

Wealthy Man, Who Returned Home After Mysterious Absence, Inhaled Gas Through a Tube at His Home.

FUMES AWAKENED WOMAN.

Louis Dreyer, Well Known in Jersey City, Whose Trip Cost Him $4,000, Ill Since He Got Back Home—Doctor Tries to Save Him.

Louis Dreyer, forty-two years old, a wealthy produce dealer, attempted suicide early to-day at his home, No. 129 Wayne street, Jersey City, by inhaling illuminating gas.

He was found unconscious by his wife, who slept in a room adjoining her husband's. Dreyer inhaled the gas through a rubber tube attached to a jet near his bed.

Mrs. Dreyer says she believes her husband was in a state of melancholia when he tried to end his life. His condition is serious, although his physician hopes to save his life.

A few months ago Mr. Dreyer mysteriously disappeared from home. He had in his possession at the time about $10,000 in cash and checks. Mrs. Dreyer and the police made a thorough search for him without avail.

He, however, turned up, after several weeks' absence, almost as mysteriously as he had gone away. The man appeared to be suffering from a drug and was minus about $4,000 in cash. He could not give any connected statement of his absence.

NEW YORKERS IN FAST TRAIN WRECK

Five Men Injured and 200 Bags of Mail on Norfolk Express Burned When Cars Caught Fire.

(Special to The Evening World.) WILMINGTON, Del., July 21.—The south-bound New York and Norfolk express on the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railway ran into a freight train on the outskirts of this city today and five persons on the express train were injured. They were John Beckley, engineer; A. V. Jamison, fireman; William Wright, express messenger; John Martin, mail clerk, and L. B. Kimmer, mail clerk. All will recover.

At the place where the collision occurred the tracks of the Delaware division cut-off cross the main line tracks almost at right angles.

The Norfolk express was proceeding at a rapid rate when suddenly Engineer Beckley saw the lights of a freight train cross his path. The next instant his locomotive had ploughed through the middle of the freight. The force of the collision hurled the express locomotive and tender over to the right and the mail coach and baggage car to the left.

Within a few seconds after the collision flames shot up from the cars and crew and passengers began the work of saving baggage and mail.

Assistance was promptly sent from Wilmington by special train, and two fire companies went to the scene of the wreck. But so quickly had the flames spread that of over 200 well filled bags on the mail car, all but two were burned. The mail clerks had not time to get their clothing and one of them says he lost $100 which was in his coat.

The crew of the express car succeeded in getting most of the baggage out, but some of it was later destroyed by the flames.

Atlantic City is a famous seaside resort where can be seen all classes and phases of American life. It is unique in being a winter and summer resort. Its fame as a health and pleasure place is known far and near. We may safely paraphrase the expression: "See Naples and die," to "See Atlantic City and Live," because it is the very centre of life and recreation.

Atlantic City possesses a board walk almost five miles long, which is generally acknowledged the finest in the world. The beach is really superb and the bathing facilities are admirable.

There are, in Atlantic City, over 700 hotels and boarding-houses. The rates range from $7 to $35 per week. Some of the large hotels can accommodate as many as 500 guests each, and they possess all modern improvements as well as luxury and comfort. This delightful resort is the Mecca for those who like ocean breezes and has become very popular with all classes.

For hotel information apply to The World's Vacation Bureau, No. 1291 Broadway, New York, and No. 222 Washington street, Brooklyn.

Mosquito Ammunition.

Scientists—sober thinkers—say they can lure mosquitoes to death with music. But the masses are ignorant of the destructive note. Meanwhile you are a victim of the buzzing pests? How they crucify the flesh and torture the spirit. There is no sleep, no tranquil moments of quiet and comfort if they are on the wing. Here are all the things, tried and true, to clear the air of the great little insidious plagues.
